

Bill Olivieri

Bill Olivieri started his career in 1982 as a pit trader at the Chicago Board Options Exchange (CBOE) trading equity and index options. His leadership experience includes acting as a CBOE Lead Market Maker and Floor Official. From 1998 to 2010, he was a successful risk manager overseeing a group of “market maker” option specialist groups across seven U.S. option exchanges.

Bill received his Accredited Investment Fiduciary Analyst™ designation in 2006 from FI360, the Center for Fiduciary Studies. His article “The Future of Retirement Investing” was featured in the prestigious Journal of Financial Planning in 2009.

His fiercely independent investment experience is shared with a diverse audience on “Business First” with Angela Miles, The Hannah and Fred Show, Catholic talk Relevant Radio and the WBBM “Noon Business Hour” discussing philanthropy and Blockchain technology.

Professional involvement includes teaching option derivatives courses at the London Stock Exchange Academy and committee Chairman of the Financial Planning Association of Illinois’ Fall Forum. Bill has been featured on the More Than Money podcast at Georgetown University and has been an active Board Member of the Glenview Chamber of Commerce since 2017.

Bill is “Bridging the Gap Between Traditional Investing and Digital Assets” as owner and managing director of Cenacle Capital Management, LLC, a state registered investment advisor, incorporating Exchange Traded Funds and cryptocurrencies to client portfolios. He currently is the sole creator of The Blockchain Advisor™ newsletter focusing on Coinbase and Grayscale products.
